DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-20 and 48, drawn to a recording method or a recording medium.

Group II, claim(s) 21-29, drawn to a recording method.

Group III, claim(s) 30-33, drawn to a recording apparatus.

Group IV, claim(s) 34-44 and 49-53, drawn to a reproducing method.

Group V, claim(s) 45-47, drawn to a reproducing apparatus.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

1) Group I does not require notifying whether or not the recording medium should be defined as a recording medium for recording the two kinds of audio data when the recording medium is a medium in which no recording has yet been performed as required by Group II, and Group II does not require that the second recording area of the recording medium is recorded with audio data which have a file format having the same file contents as audio data recorded in the first recording area as required by Group I;

2) Group I does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether the input audio data are supplied to an encoder or to a data generating unit based on a designated recording format as required by Group III, and Group III does not require that the second recording area of the recording medium is recorded with audio data which have a file format having the same file contents as audio data recorded in the first recording area as required by Group I;

3) Group I does not require starting a process of reproducing the recording medium when an instruction of a reproducing start and a selecting instruction of a recording format or a track position are supplied when it is identified that the recording medium is a recording medium in which the two kinds of audio data are recorded as required by Group IV, and Group IV does not require that the second recording area of the recording medium is recorded with audio data which have a file format having the same file contents as audio data recorded in the first recording area as required by Group I;

4) Group I does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether or not data output from the decoder are supplied to the conversion unit based on information on a table of contents readout from the recording medium as required by Group V, and Group V does not require that the second recording area of the recording medium is recorded with audio data which have a file format having the same file contents as audio data recorded in the first recording area as required by Group I;

5) Group II does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether the input audio data are supplied to an encoder or to a data generating unit based on a designated recording format as required by Group III, and Group III does not require notifying whether or not the recording medium should be defined as a recording medium for recording the two kinds of audio data when the recording medium is a medium in which no recording has yet been performed as required by Group II;

6) Group II does not require starting a process of reproducing the recording medium when an instruction of a reproducing start and a selecting instruction of a recording format or a track position are supplied when it is identified that the recording medium is a recording medium in which the two kinds of audio data are recorded as required by Group IV, and Group IV does not require notifying whether or not the recording medium should be defined as a recording medium for recording the two kinds of audio data when the recording medium is a medium in which no recording has yet been performed as required by Group II;

7) Group II does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether or not data output from the decoder are supplied to the conversion unit based on information on a table of contents readout from the recording medium as required by Group V, and Group V does not require notifying whether or not the recording medium should be defined as a recording medium for recording the two kinds of audio data when the recording medium is a medium in which no recording has yet been performed as required by Group II;

8) Group III does not require starting a process of reproducing the recording medium when an instruction of a reproducing start and a selecting instruction of a recording format or a track position are supplied when it is identified that the recording medium is a recording medium in which the two kinds of audio data are recorded as required by Group IV, and Group IV does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether the input audio data are supplied to an encoder or to a data generating unit based on a designated recording format as required by Group III;

9) Group III does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether or not data output from the decoder are supplied to the conversion unit based on information on a table of contents readout from the recording medium as required by Group V, and Group V does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether the input audio data are supplied to an encoder or to a data generating unit based on a designated recording format as required by Group III; and

10) Group IV does not require a selecting unit for deciding whether or not data output from the decoder are supplied to the conversion unit based on information on a table of contents readout from the recording medium as required by Group V, and Group IV does not require starting a process of reproducing the recording medium when an instruction of a reproducing start and a selecting instruction of a recording format or a track position are supplied when it is identified that the recording medium is a recording medium in which the two kinds of audio data are recorded as required by Group IV.

A telephone call was not made to the applicants' representative to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement due to the nature of the application, e.g., foreign applicants, and the need for the examiner to promptly act on the application.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

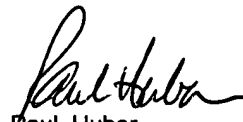

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Paul Huber whose telephone number is 571-272-7588. The examiner can normally be reached on Compressed Schedule, every Friday off.
